Countries of work Experience: Palestine

Throughout my work and education, I have gathered experience in Architecture working in various scale projects and installations, as a result, I now possess a wide set of skills and therefore I consider myself ready to cope with new challenges. Being involved in various types of projects over the years has helped me become an effective & efficient individual, with the advantage of being curious and fast learner. I am constantly improving my skills and trying to adopt different approaches used in the design process. At this stage of my career my goal is to focus all my energy and time on work. My priority is to successfully complete my given task, while learning new design methods and exposing myself to global design trends and issues.
